The Instant Web Companies Announces New Positions

Chanhasen, Minn. (July 1, 2003) — The Instant Web Companies (IWCO), an integrated direct mail services company, announced that Steve Myrvold will assume the title of Director of Manufacturing. This newly created position will ensure platform manufacturing integration across all IWCO production disciplines. Larry Garlick will assume the new role of Director of Engineering and Technology and will have overall accountability for capital implementation, facilities, quality, and process improvement. Darrell Klein was named Operations Manager in charge of IWCO's Little Falls, MN, facility.

The Instant Web Companies, headquartered in Chanhasen, MN, has served the needs of North American direct marketers for more than 34 years. IWCO provides integrated direct mail services resulting in streamlined production for all components – printing, plastics, envelope conversion and mailing. For more information, contact Debora Haskel, vice president marketing at Instant Web, at 603-924-3714 or debora.haskel@iwco.com, or Jeron Udean, Strother Communications Group, at 612-288-2414 or jeronu@scgpr.com.
